

Seize Your Share of the Booming Cloud Networking Market

Now is the time to boost your cloud network security offering

The cloud network security market was valued at $6.4 billion in 2023 and is projected to grow at a CAGR of over 13% between 2024 and 2032.¹ The opportunity is huge thanks in part to several current trends that are creating challenges for virtually every company across every industry:

Trend	Challenge
Rapid proliferation of AI	Puts performance and compliance pressure on existing infrastructures
Rise of multicloud environments	Creates management complexity and operational friction
Ever-evolving threat landscape	It's hard to keep up, creating risk

You can seize your share of this booming market when you partner with Aviatrix to solve these challenges for your customers.
